

“Working with Grubb & Ellis|BRE Commercial was a great experience. They did an excellent job in listening to our needs and working the marketplace to find the right property.”

After 22 years in the business, General Coatings has established a reputation as the premier painting and wallcovering company in Southern California. By providing an extensive line of services ranging from general and high-reach painting and waterproofing to sandblasting and stucco repair, the company has a varied list of clients, including general contractors, developers, property managers and home owner associations in the commercial and multi-tenant marketplace.

General Coatings has streamlined its operations through technology, using computerized estimating, bids and digitizers to provide clients with timely and accurate information. The company's size, expertise and resources enable them to cater to clients' needs more efficiently and complete jobs more quickly.

“Quality, price and service are the keys to our success,” said President Craig Kinsman. “We have to do it consistently everyday because in this business, you are only as good as your last job.”

In working with Grubb & Ellis|BRE Commercial to find a new San Diego location, Kinsman found a similar commitment to quality, price and service. “Working with G&E|BRE Commercial and broker Glenn Arnold was a great experience. Glenn did an excellent job in listening to our needs and working the marketplace to find the right property,” Kinsman said, resulting in the purchase of a 16,000-square-foot locale. “Glenn was responsible for negotiating both sides of the transaction, which requires a lot of integrity, honesty and patience, as well as sensitivity to the needs of both parties.”
